Mark Twain Had Over a Million

Got Enormous Royalties On His Many Works

New York, April 16.—According to members of the firm of Harper and Brothers, Mark Twain publishers of late years, the noted humorist died a very wealthy man, worth probably one million dollars or more, even after he had sacrificed one great fortune to pay the debts of a failing publishing firm in which he was financially interested.

A rough estimate and by no means accurate, of the number of Mr. Clemens' books that have been published in America alone would be between $5,000,000 and $5,000,000 lbs., said a member of the Harper firm today.

It is no exaggeration to say even at this late day the works of Mark Twain are selling more rapidly than those of any author, living or dead.

"Mr. Clemens works have been translated into many tongues; how many we do not know, for he attended to his own business. We merely published his works in America. Other firms did so in England and France and other countries where they were issued."

"Many years ago Mr. Clemens entered the publishing firm of S. T. Hartford. The firm published several of his books, but later failed and it was this failure that caused on a lecturing tour and was followed by the publication of his books "Innocents Abroad" and "Following the Equator." He did not rest until he had paid all the debts of this firm.

Then his books were published by the American publishing Co. of Hartford, but for the past ten years Mr. Clemens books have been published by Harpers.

While we do not care to say what we paid Mr. Clemens for his numerous short stories which we published in our magazine or what royalties we paid him when the stories were first put into book form, it has been truly said that Mark Twain received more for his stories and higher royalties for them in book form than any author. Mr. Clemens income was enormous of late years. With a large sum of ready money at his command, it is probable that such close friends as H. A. Rogers assisted him in investing that money wisely and safely.

A short time ago Mr. Clemens desired to have his works a part of every American household and he entered into a contract with us to publish them in 25 volumes, for $25. Of course he couldn't receive his royalties on such a cheap set of books, but he sacrificed his usual heavy return for the sake of getting his books read. The way this set of books has sold has astonished even the members of this firm who expected great results. We have no work which today sells nearly as well.

"But Mr. Clemens has received immense royalties. Several years ago there issued a special anniversary edition of his books, in twenty-five volumes at $12 a volume. Mr. Clemens royalties were at least $75 on each of these sets, which today sell at an enormous premium, containing as they do Mr. Clemens' signature, and those of nearly every prominent American artist."

Mr. Clemens book will sell for years to come. Do not forget that The European estimate of Mr. Clemens is greater than the American estimate. In America we regard him as a humorist. In Europe he is regarded as the greatest American philosopher. In time America will regard him as such. His books will live forever."

Additional Locals

Quite a number of Raymonds are in Edmonton this week.

Mr. Geo. W. Green and family moved to Lethbridge Monday.

The little storm we had last Sunday did much good to the crops.

Mr. J. J. Jeffries is 45 around the waist. How old is the rest of him?

Born.—In Raymond on Friday April 22 to wife of Geo. Fairbanks a son.

The editor is away this week attending the musical festival held at Edmonton.

A man's opinions are subject to change—except the good one he has about himself.

The Ellison Milling Company have transferred their head office to Lethbridge.

The Raymond Military Band went to Edmonton, Monday to enter the Band Contest.

The contributions to help the band go to Edmonton were very liberal and encouraged the boys very much.

How absurd it is that the young man in love with a pretty girl never thinks to investigate her cooking until it is too late.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Duke entertained, Thursday evening, in honor of their son C. A. Duke and wife who married recently in Salt Lake City.

Barriets, April 27.—King Edward I. I. here last night in honor of the appearance to have some great hostility by the other subjects on the said climate.

On the last week, four of Mr. Geo. A. Duke's horses were shot and killed and the other three were wounded. Two Japanese, supposed of the shooting, have been arrested and are now in Lethbridge awaiting trial.

A wedding reception was held at the residence of B. L. Thompson on Friday evening last, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Z. John Skommon, who have just returned from their wedding tour. A large number of friends were present. Much praise is due Mr. and Mrs. Thompson for the magnificent supper that was served.

Geo. Mantle moved a carload of household effects to Raymond on Friday last and is moving into G. T. Wicks' house on Broadway. Mr. Mantle comes from Exeter, Ont., and is already favorably impressed with the town and surrounding country. Mrs. Mantle arrived on Tuesday and they are visiting with Dr. and Mrs. Rivers until they get settled in their new home.

Mrs. Annie Shouson has returned from Lethbridge where she has been for the past few weeks.

First Manager—Did your company have a long run?

Second Manager—No; but we had a long walk.

"How did that story that George Washington couldn't tell a lie get started?" asked the inquisitive youth.

"I don't know," replied the irreverent person; "unless he had a press agent that could."

Doctor—Johnny, I see the pills I gave you have made you well again; how did you take them—with water or with cake?

Johnny—I kept them in my pocket to shoot at the cat—Chicago News.

Mr. Daniel Pettley and Miss Katie Roth were united in marriage on Wednesday last, Bishop John F. Anderson officiating. The Rustler joins with their many friends in wishing them a long and happy life.

They talk about a woman's sphere. As though it had a limit, There's not a place in earth or heaven, There's not a task to mankind given, There's not a blessing or a woe, There's not a whispered 'yes' or 'no', There's not a life or death or birth, That has a feather's weight or worth Without a woman in it!

Guarantee Bonds

Ottawa, April 25.—The Hon. George P. Graham has given notice of a resolution providing for a government guarantee bonds for the Canadian Northern Alberta railway company for the construction of a line from Edmonton west to the coal areas near the Brazeau river and the headwaters of Macleod river, a distance of 150 miles. The guarantee is to the extent of $13,000 per mile for the first 50 miles and $25 per mile for the balance of the line, with interest at the rate of 3 1/2 % per annum, payable half-yearly. Usual conditions with regard to security are imposed. The guarantee supersedes a previous guarantee bonds to the Edmonton, Yukon and Pacific railway.

The Winnipeg Centennial Exposition

Since the executive of Canada's International Exposition decided to organize the local campaign for financial support, the business of the R-position has gone forward with a rush. There were those, both at home or abroad who said Winnipeg people were more interested in getting money from others than they were in putting their own cash in the Exposition treasury. This was known by the Exposition committee to be a long way from the truth, but since nothing demonstrates like a demonstration, the executive decided to afford the public of Canada such a demonstration, partly perhaps as a right of the people of the Dominion to know just what is the attitude of the citizens of Winnipeg toward the Exposition which is to be held in 1914 and which the business men of this city originated and have done so much to forward.

Backed with Hard Cash.

With the intention of affording such a demonstration, a special committee selected by the Exposition executive for this purpose, has been at work steadily on a plan for the first issue of Exposition stock by subscription—for the first formal, signed, agreements to support the Exposition with cash. Proceeding with the plan the special committee, made up of leading business men of Winnipeg, has held the daily meetings for the development of the plan of finance in a dignified comprehensive manner. To facilitate matters, the business public has been divided into classifications and the plan for the issue of stock taken up with each section. Representatives of the several lines have met with the committee and have met other meetings as well, all of which has proceeded far enough so that it is made certain that Winnipeg will cash in, in Exposition affairs in full proportion to the interest the Winnipeg promoters of the project have ever shown.

Nearly Cooperation By All.

Each section of Winnipeg business interests—as classified by the Exposition finance committee for convenience and method, has taken up the stock issue with enthusiasm. At a luncheon of the Winnipeg real estate men, held last Tuesday a proposition to subscribe $150,000 of Exposition stock, was enthusiastically endorsed and a canvass of principal firms, made at a later meeting held to consider the matter, showed that the amount of stock to be subscribed from this source will reach a quarter of a million dollars. Other lines of business have responded with equal generosity to the stock issue proposal. $100,000 from wholesale firms in the city, $100,000 from the hotelkeepers, $100,000 from the manufacturers, are amounts certified by men who practically are in control in these lines of business in Winnipeg and although the canvass has been touched upon only, there is ample warrant for the statement that Winnipeg business men, and citizens not specially engaged in business, will come forward with signed obligations for at least a million dollars in response to the call of the Exposition finance committee for a substantial declaration of faith in the big fair.

A letter was received during the week from the promotion committee of Hawaii asking for definite information concerning the Exposition, so that Hawaii might prepare an exhibit and make arrangements for putting it on display in 1914. The letter is an added proof of foreign interest in Canada's first great Exposition, and besides the local enthusiasm manifested by the proposal to issue stock, a letter recent of date, received from the Western Association Boards of Trade, shows that Canadian communities have a sharp interest in the matter too. This letter sets forth that an inquiry was sent from the Associated Boards of Trade, asking what the Dominion Government has taken of a resolution passed some time ago by the Association endorsing the Exposition project, a copy of which was forwarded to the Dominion Government at the time. To the inquiry of the Associated Boards of Trade, Hon. Frank Oliver, Minister of the Interior, returned answer that the Dominion Government looks with favor upon the plan to hold a great Exposition for Canada at Winnipeg, and only await assurance that a considerable amount of funds has been raised from other quarters, to make an appropriate Government grant the Exposition.

United States is Alarmed over Immigration to Canada

Washington, D. C., April 27.—Secretary of Agriculture, James Wilson, it was learned today, is considering means for a campaign to prevent the wholesale emigration of farmers to Canada from the United States, which has grown to proportions that alarm him. It is possible he will start a formal investigation into the situation. The secretary has given the question much study, but the results are not reassuring because of liberal Canadian laws and vast area at the disposal of settlers, compared with the American laws, and the fact that no more government land can be taken on the American side.

REPORT OF COMMISSIONER

Morton E. Crane, secretary of the joint congress immigration commission announced today that the commission's report on Canadian immigration already has been sent to congress and will be printed in a few days.

Advance sheets report how, during 1909, approximately sixty thousand Americans emigrated to Canada from the border states. The great majority left the United States to take farms in Canada, which are offered under very favorable terms to settlers by the Dominion government and various Canadian and railway companies.

IMMIGRATION FROM CANADA.

Immigration from Canada into the United States during the same year was approximately fifty-three thousand, so the balance in favor of Canada is not as large as supposed. Immigrants of both countries, according to information gathered by the commission, was of the best classes, being mostly farmers.

Two Teachers

A school teacher sat at the close of day

Pressing his hands at his aching head;

He could still hear the boisterous
play

And the shouts of his boys, as they hurried away.

And he frowned and fretted and planned anew

More stringent rules for the noisy crew.

"They'll be the death of me yet,"
he said.

A school teacher sat at his door
one day,

And laughed so hard he could scarcely see.

At the antics and pranks of his boys at play,

Their pompous airs and their mimic fray.

As he marked how they aped the ways of men,

He shook with laughter again
and again:

"They'll be the death of me yet,"
said he.

What the World Wants

Men who cannot be bought.
Men whose word is their bond.

Men who put character above wealth.

Men who would rather be right
than be president.

Men who will not lose their individuality in a crowd.

Men who will not think anything profitable that is dishonest.

Men who will be honest in small things as in great things.

Men who will make no compromise of questionable things.

Men whose ambitions are not confined to their own selfish desires.

Men who are willing to sacrifice private interest for the public good.

Men of courage, who are not cowards in any part of their natures.

Men who are larger than their business, who overtop their vocations.

Men who will give thirty-six inches for a yard and thirty-two quarts for a bushel.

Philanthropists who will not let their right hand know what their left hand is doing.

Men who will not have one brand of honesty for business purposes and another for private life.

Young men who will be true to their highest ideals in spite of the angers and laughter of their companions.

Statesmen who will not rack caucuses, pull wires, or be influenced in their policy by personal motives.

Magnanimous souls who do not look upon everybody they meet for the possible use they may be to them.

Men who are true to their friends through good report and evil report, in adversity as well as in prosperity.

Single-hearted people who do not look at every proposition from the point of view of "What is there in it for me?"

Young men and women who can stand erect and independent while others bow and fawn and cringe for place and power.

Men who do not believe that shrewdness, sharpness, cunning and long headedness are the best qualities for winning success.

Lawyers who will not persuade clients to bring suits merely to squeeze fees out of them, when they know very well that they have no chance of winning.

Men who have the courage to do their duty in silence and ob-scurely while others about them win wealth and notoriety by neglecting sacred obligations.

Men who are not ashamed to stand for the truth when it is unpopular, who can say "no"
with emphasis, although the rest of the world says "yes."

Men who have the courage to wear thread bare clothes and to live simply and plainly, if necessary, while their competitors revel in luxury purchased by cooked methods.

Men who have gained such control of themselves that they can pass through the most exasperat-ing situations without doing or saying an unpleasant thing, without losing their temper or flying off their center.
